and texts by Michael Rohani

- Over 170 bird species
- Over 300 colorful photographs
- 8.5x8.5, 144 pages

You're never too young to discover the amazing diversity of birds. The many different ways birds look, fly, sing, hunt, and nest are among the most fascinating wonders of the natural world. Discover birding and you'll discover a lot about nature and life—and often you don't have to look farther than your own backyard.

A Kid's Guide to Birding explains

- the basics of birding for kids,
- tips on what makes a good birder,
- how to recognize and identify birds,
- ways to attract birds to your own yard,
- steps for starting your own birding "life list,"
- places to find new birds,
- and much more!

With over 300 colorful photographs and more than 170 kinds of birds from a multitude of habitats and different seasons of the year, A Kid's Guide to Birding is a great visual introduction to birds for kids.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Father and son birding enthusiasts, Michael and Lorenzo Rohani, have traveled thousands of miles together to find and photograph birds. They have visited many wildlife refuges, park lands, and birding hot spots to discover new birds and, at home, they have made their backyard into a bird-friendly habitat. This book includes many of the photographs taken on their trips together. They live in the Pacific Northwest in the Seattle metro area.

"More exciting and more informative than a field guide, this is an excellent introduction. Highly recommended for all libraries."
